FOUNDERS

Elvin Saruk Chair

Elvin is committed to providing opportunities for novice leaders to learn leadership skills in intentional ways. When he encountered others who want to share foster young leaders, he formed the Saruk Centre for Leadership Development.

Kelvin Hill Board Member

When Kelvin left his tenure track position in academic biochemistry to pursue a career in dentistry, he determined that he'd return the investment of time, opportunities, and funding that his mentors had bestowed. As a founding board member of the Saruk Centre for Leadership Development, he can do just that.

Scott Sankey Treasurer

Scott has spent more than 20 years working in the oil and gas industry around the globe. He has lead teams and influenced others. He became a founding member of the Saruk Centre to help future leaders develop their skills by taking approaches not typically employed by academic institutions.

Gail Misek Board Member

Gail has spent the majority of the last 40 years empowering students as a teacher. She firmly believes in staying curious, listening compassionately, and being kind. As a part of the visionary team of the Saruk Centre, Gail continues to support young leaders in leadership service, igniting their inner spark, and creating a better world.

Eric Rajah Interim Director

Eric is committed to mentoring and providing opportunities for leadership through the Saruk Centre and through his charitable organization, A Better World. Over the past 35 years, he has employed more than 125 students at his local business. Eric, along with the rest of the Saruk Centre, wants to see young people become outstanding leaders for their local communities and the world.
